

Senate Refuses to Prohibit Transfer of Seized Vessels

Vandenberg's Motion is Defeated by Vote of 43 to 38 Today

BULLETIN

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—Far-reaching legislation empowering the president to take over foreign ships lying idle in American waters was passed by the senate today and returned to the house for consideration of amendments.

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—Despite arguments that it was authorizing "needless provocative acts of war," the senate defeated today an effort to forbid the president to transfer from one belligerent nation to another any foreign vessels taken over under pending shipping legislation.

By a vote of 43 to 38, the chamber rejected an amendment by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) and Clark (D-Mo) which would have forbidden such transfers. A similar amendment previously had been defeated in the house.

Vandenberg argued that the provision would not impair the legislation and would prevent needless provocations to war.

Under the legislation, passage of which was expected by night-fall, the president could take over any or all of the 80-odd foreign flag vessels lying idle in American waters. Two of them are German and 28 are Italian.

The vessels could be acquired by purchase, charter, requisition or condemnation. Purchase and charter would be voluntary transactions, while requisition and condemnation proceedings would involve the use of governmental authority. Just compensation would be provided in all cases.

The threat of lengthy debate was lifted when Senator Tobey (R-NH) decided not to seek an anti-convoy provision in the pending legislation, but to wait until the whole convoy question could be raised separately.

Passage Expected Today
Both the supporters and the opponents of the ship acquisition measure thereupon agreed that it probably would receive senate approval by nightfall and returned to the house for action on minor amendments. The house passed the bill by a two-to-one vote last week.

With the convoy rider eliminated from consideration, the only important amendment to be voted on was the proposal of Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich) and Clark (D-Mo) to prohibit the transfer of any requisitioned belligerent ship to another belligerent.

Senator Barkley (D-Ky), the majority leader, predicted the defeat of this amendment, which would prevent the United States from turning over to Britain any of the 30 axis vessels now in the coast guard's protective custody. Senator Tobey reluctantly decided to refrain from offering his anti-convoy rider to the ship bill after two meetings yesterday with a group of senators who favored his proposal but who believe it would command greater support if presented separately and not as an amendment to an extraneous measure.

Await "Fireside Chat"

The group also felt it might be wiser to wait until President Roosevelt had delivered his fireside chat on May 27.

"There is no element to retreat in this," Tobey insisted afterward. "The issue is still very much alive and will be brought to the senate, maybe next week."

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) said public sentiment was "very definitely turning against our involvement."

Broadcasters-FCC Quarrel Continues

St. Louis, May 15.—(AP)—The quarrel between a large section of the radio industry and the federal government was intensified today by the determined stand of the National Association of Broadcasters against some present policies of the Federal Communications Commission.

Meantime, Chairman James L. Fly of FCC prepared to return to Washington ahead of schedule, declaring he was denied an opportunity to answer personally a blistering attack on his agency at yesterday's convention session.

Fly said he understood he was to be given a chance to reply to an address by Mark Etheridge, Louisville radio and newspaper executive, whose denunciation of the FCC was followed by passage of a resolution declaring recent commission actions "threaten the freedom of radio."

Reference was to the FCC anti-monopoly report ordering broad revisions in the internal structure of the broadcasting business.

Leaders said the resolution was an "official warning" the association was ready to wage a vigorous fight against any attempt at government control.

Rural Graduates Given Diplomas Here Last Night

"We must set our minds upon the more encouraging things in life, rather than dwell upon discouraging factors," declared Dr. F. L. Blewfield, pastor of the Methodist church in a Commencement address on "The Three R's of Modern Education" delivered to eighth grade graduates of Lee county rural schools last evening in the Dixon high school auditorium.

In early times, the speaker reminded his listeners, education meant learning the three R's—reading, writing and arithmetic. Today, he continued, a fourth R—radio—might be added, as a large amount of knowledge is obtained from this source.

Today, Dr. Blewfield believes, the fundamental requirements of education have been raised for appointment to positions. Students should stay by the educational process, in his opinion, until they have arrived at the point where the best jobs are available.

Cheerfulness Essential

The speaker described writing as "representing the record of putting down in black and white where we stand and what we stand for; arithmetic is the process of figuring things out." He considers cheerfulness as one of the greatest assets in life. "We fail," he declared, "not because of the right kind of education, but because of the right kind of disposition."

In conclusion, he quoted the following philosophy from Gene Stratton Porter's book, "Michael O'Halloran": "There is no use growing more lines on your face with all nature running wild just to please you; loosen up if you have to tickle yourself with a torpedo to start you! 'Spouse you do own a grouch, what's the use of displaying it in your show window? Try grinning instead of frowning, just for one day!'"

Special music was furnished by Miss Marilee Burns and Winston Atkins, and Mrs. A. I. Hardy entertained with two readings, "The Party," written by Paul Dunbar. John A. Torrens, superintendent of Lee county schools, presented diplomas to 52 graduates.

Reynolds Recommended As Chairman of Senate Military Affairs Group

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—Senator Reynolds (D-N.C.) was recommended for chairmanship of the important Senate military affairs committee today after a closed session of the Senate Democratic steering committee.

Sensors said the vote was 12 to 3 with Senator Glass (D-Va.), Cuffey (D-Pa.) and Green (D-R.I.) asking that they be recorded as opposed to the elevation of Reynolds, who has opposed some administration foreign policies.

The steering committee's recommendations usually are followed but the Senate must finally approve.

High Schools to Return To 16-Team Cage Finals

Champaign, Ill., May 15.—C. V. Whitten, executive manager of the Illinois High School Association, said today that the 16-team final for the state basketball championship was definitely slated for 1942.

"There will be no meeting of the board of directors here this week-end," Whitten said. "The board has agreed to abide by the vote of the principals, which favored the 16-team finals."

Ran True to Form

Decatur, Ill., May 15.—(AP)—Jack Waggoner, as usual, is busy collecting his "May 10 rain bets."

For some 35 years he has made wagers with friends that it would rain here May 10. The weatherman cooperated again this year, adding to Waggoner's long string of victories.

Gov. Dwight H. Green and members of the Illinois legislature will review the 33rd division at Camp Forrest Monday evening, the review to be broadcast by radio station WBBM, Chicago, at 5:15 Dixon time.

Camp Forrest, Tenn., May 15.—(AP)—"We men in camps for the same period in the last war couldn't have equalled it."

That was the comment from Tennessee's Governor Prentice Cooper yesterday after he had watched 5,000 khaki-clad soldiers march past him in the first formal review of troops held at Camp Forrest.

GMC Workers Quit Jobs Despite Pact For Delay of Day

Strike Against Three Hudson Motor Plants Called by CIO

BULLETIN

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), today directed all General Motors Corporation workers who are members of his union, to return to their jobs on this afternoon's shifts.

Thomas said that the stoppage of work at four Flint, Mich., plants of the corporation had been caused by misunderstanding which resulted from the postponement of the scheduled strike early this morning.

The Defense Mediation Board had requested a 24-hour deferment and the strike is now scheduled for 3:10 a. m. (CST) Friday unless the corporation accepts the recommendations of the board.

By The Associated Press

The United Automobile Workers (CIO) Union called a strike against three Hudson Motor Company plants in Detroit today and General Motors Corporation reported a walkout at its Flint, Michigan, Chevrolet works despite agreement to postpone a strike against GMC until Friday.

The stoppage at General Motors also spread to the Buick plant and two Fisher body plants, with company officials estimating that upwards of 35,000 workers were idle.

A strike which had closed the New Haven Foundry Company at New Haven, Mich., was settled last night, permitting the Dodge division of the Chrysler Corporation at Detroit to resume full operations. Dodge obtains its cylinder block supply from the foundry company and had been forced to curtail production. No details of the issues nor settlement agreement were given.

Word Came Too Late

The defense mediation board early this morning, only a few hours before a strike was set for 60 plants of General Motors in 22 states, announced a postponement for one day in the walkout. CIO union officials said they thought the stoppage at Flint took place because word of the postponement got there too late.

The Hudson walkout applied to

Two Ashton Boys Put on Probation

Dale Heath, 17 and Edwin Droegge, 16, of Ashton, were taken in custody yesterday afternoon by Patrolmen Bohnstiel and Fischer, when they were reported to be attempting to dispose of new plumbing fixtures at a local hardware store. It developed upon investigation that two boxes of new plumbing fixtures and two boxes of furniture polish had been stolen from the George Stephan flat in Ashton at noon yesterday.

The fixtures were valued at about $25 and the two high school students, Heath, a senior, and Droegge, a sophomore, were attempting to dispose of them for one dollar. Informations were filed in Lee County court today and upon arraignment, the two youths admitted the thefts before Judge Grover Gehant. Upon the recommendation of the state's attorney, at the request of the parents, both were admitted to probation for a period of one year, Judge Gehant ordered that the boys pay the court costs, which amounted to $22.80, when he explained that sentence was suspended pending their probation period.

Both boys were in County court during hearings Monday and Tuesday and Judge Gehant inquired whether they had been encouraged by the arguments of counsel for two other youthful defendants, but both denied that they had been influenced by the proceeding.

Fourth Floor of Hospital Will Be Dept. of Pediatrics

The entire fourth floor of the addition to the Katherine Shaw Bethesda hospital is to be used for a pediatric department, it was announced today and will be a memorial to the wife of the late Dr. S. D. Houston of Polo. The plans for this department, which will be used solely for the care of children, will consist of two wards of five beds each, one six-bed ward, two private rooms and a five bed nursery.

The pediatric department is one which will fill a long-felt need in the hospital program. While arrangements for this department have been made, the directors are not prepared to furnish the necessary equipment and donations are being sought to complete the program.

The hospital management also feels the need for the extension of the student nurses' training department, which if extended would permit student nurses to complete their course of training locally, instead of having to go to Chicago hospitals for final training.

Sanity Hearing for Farm Hand Ordered

Richard Bennett, 20, was scheduled to appear before a commission of physicians in Lee County court this afternoon at a sanity hearing. Psychiatrists from the Dixon state hospital conducted an examination of him yesterday afternoon at the request of authorities and their report was to be submitted when Bennett is taken before Judge Grover Gehant this afternoon.

Bennett was taken in custody by police following the investigation of reports of numerous Dixon women being molested on the streets both in daylight and after dark. Three women identified Bennett at police headquarters and a fourth complained to Chief Van Bibber late yesterday afternoon of Bennett's actions at her home Tuesday morning when he demanded admission.

According to Chief Van Bibber, she was the fourth to identify the 20-year-old farm hand, who admitted his action. He was arrested on a farm east of the Kingdom Wednesday morning by Chief Van Bibber and Officer John Bohnstiel.

Freeport Selectee at Camp Forrest Suicides

Tullahoma, Tenn., May 15.—(AP)—Melvin Carl Schrader, 27, a selectee who came to camp last Thursday from Freeport, Ill., hanged himself early this morning.

Major General Samuel T. Lawton, camp commander said today. The youth, a member of Company G, 132nd Infantry, was found hanging in his company's washroom at 1:30 a. m., by a fellow soldier. Regimental officers said he apparently had tied a tent rope around a rafter, placed it around his neck and jumped from a wash room bench. Physicians said the tragedy occurred about 1 a. m.

Schrader, formerly a filling station laborer in Freeport was the first soldier to die within the camp confines. Two soldiers previously died in accidents outside the camp.

21 New Bombers Arrive At Hawaiian Air Base

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—The Hawaiian command of the U. S. army air force was strengthened today by 21 of the latest type four motored bombers, and it was announced that further reinforcements would follow later.

The big bombers reached the Pacific outpost yesterday after a secret mass flight from California which took them over some 2,400 miles of open water.

The Hawaiian command has been progressively reinforced since early in the year, but the army waited until yesterday's spectacular performance to lay public emphasis on the fact.

Legislators Split on Proposals for Civil Service Law

Inquiry Committee Reports Its Findings in Capital Today

Springfield, Ill., May 15.—(AP)—A legislative investigation of state civil service administration ended today with Republicans and Democrats on the inquiry board sharply divided over G. O. P.-sponsored proposals which the Democrats charged were designed to open the way for firing of civil service workers.

The four Republican majority members of the committee, headed by Rep. Robert J. Branson of Centralia, charged that Democratic campaign fund collections from state employees had led to "outstanding abuse" of the civil service system and recommended revision of the civil service law to relax dismissal requirements.

A minority report was filed separately by the two Democratic members, Rep. William Vicens of Pontiac and Senator A. L. Marovitz of Chicago, opposing the proposed changes and charging that the investigation "was instigated for the sole purpose of discharging many competent certified employees, in order that political appointments could be made in their stead."

The chief controversy was over the Republican proposal to repeal a provision of the law that now gives every suspended civil service employee the right to be heard by the civil service commission before a discharge order is entered. The G. O. P. report recommended a return to the former practice of permitting immediate dismissals unless the ousted employee could prove he was fired for political, racial or religious reasons.

The minority report favored the present law, contending that under the G. O. P. plan, in effect from 1917 to 1939, civil service employees "held their jobs by mere whim and caprice" of state officials.

Another difference of opinion arose over the Republican majority recommendation that the eligible list of those who had passed civil service examinations for state game wardens and inspectors be cancelled and new examinations given.

"There was clear and convincing evidence that some persons who took the examination were passed and certified who, for various reasons, should not have been placed on the eligible list."

The minority report, on the other hand, contended the game warden examinations were given in the regular manner and charged that the recommendation to cancel the previous examination was "inspired by the director of the department of conservation and the present chairman of the civil service commission for the sole purpose of creating additional political jobs."

Both reports recommended that additional funds be appropriated for administration of civil service and that the probationary period for civil service workers be extended from 90 days to six months.

"The principal cause for the present criticism of the civil service law which has been the subject matter of general discussion was its outstanding abuse and violation by organized and enforced collection of campaign funds by and from civil service employees for political organizations," the Republican report declared.

Besides Chairman Branson, others who signed the Republican report were Senators A. Otis Arnold of Quincy and William G. Knox of Chicago and Rep. Ernest A. Greene of Chicago.

British Reinforced Base At Singapore Today

Singapore, May 15.—(AP)—Several thousand British fighting men—soldiers, sailors and fliers—disembarked from a transport today while freighters were unloading heavy cargoes of war supplies from the United States.

The reinforcements of men from the United Kingdom and supplies from the United States aided to the steadily growing strength of Britain's Far Eastern defenses.

The new arrivals from the homeland, representing every branch of the empire's fighting services, were sped to depots and garrison points to join other British, Australian and Indian units already guarding this South Asian stronghold.

French Warned Not To Draw Conclusions From Current Negotiations

Vichy, France, May 15.—(AP)—Chief of State Marshal Petain, in a short speech to the French people, announced tonight that Adolf Hitler and French Vice-Premier Jean Darlan had "lighted the road of the future" and warned the nation not to draw conclusions from negotiations still going on.

One-Man Peace Offensive of Rudolph Hess Remains Big News of Europe's War

Churchill Postpones Report on Talks With Visitor

(By The Associated Press)

British Labor Minister Ernest Bevin said today that he believed nazi deputy fuhrer Rudolph Hess flew to Scotland with the full knowledge of Adolf Hitler, but that he doubted Hess came "out of mad sympathy for the British people."

In the first outspoken official comment on the bizarre episode, Bevin declared:

"From my point of view, Herr Hess is a murderer. You can understand my feeling when I tell you he was the man who collected an index card on every trade union leader in Germany and the Social Democrats, and when the time came, they were either sent to concentration camps or murdered."

Bevin hinted broadly that Hess' concern was for the German people—not the British—as a result of nazi casualties in the Balkans and death and destruction wrought by the RAF bombs on Germany itself.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the House of Commons he would report at the first opportunity on the Hess incident "guided in the selection of that opportunity by the public interest."

Asked if there were any truth in a German radio suggestion that "Scotland is ready to make a separate peace with Germany," Churchill replied: "Whatever delusions may exist, that is not among them."

Nazi Activity Indicated

Bevin's statement on the Hess mystery came as a series of developments indicated that Hitler may be starting a big-scale campaign in the Middle East. These included:

1. British headquarters at Cairo said German warplanes had landed at flying fields in the oil kingdom of Iraq.

2. The German radio said the British had ordered all British women and children withdrawn from Palestine.

3. German Ambassador Franz von Papen returned to Istanbul with "friendly greetings" from Hitler to Turkish President Ismet Inonu. If she did not fight, Turkey would be an easy route for a sweep of Hitler's Balkan armies toward the Suez canal.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told Parliament that French authorities were allowing German planes to land in French-mandated Syria en route to Iraq and that "the French government cannot escape responsibility for this situation."

"Their action under German or-

Civil Service Law Retained by House

Springfield, Ill., May 15.—(AP)—Legislation to repeal the Illinois civil service law was killed today in the house of representatives.

With little debate, the lower chamber adopted a motion to strike the enacting clause of the bill by Rep. John W. Lewis, Jr. (R-Marshall) which would have abolished the entire civil service structure in the state government.

Lewis argued that the now dominant Republican party should adopt the motto of Andrew Jackson: "To the victor belongs the spoils," and asserted civil service administration under recent Democratic administrations was "filled with abuses."

Rep. T. J. Sullivan (D-Springfield) made the motion to strike the enacting clause, saying "a Republican clique is trying to abolish the merit system simply to help the job-hungry Republican political workers."

Today's action was by a voice vote. In a house session late yesterday, 48 Republicans supported Lewis in a test vote on a preliminary motion, which 80 legislators, mostly Democrats, went on record against the Lewis bill.

Insurance Investigator, Victim of Amnesia, Found in U. S. Army Camp

Chicago, May 15.—(AP)—A victim of amnesia, Jesse P. Sanderson, 33-year-old investigator for an insurance firm, enlisted in the army and spent four months at Camp Beuregard, La., while the object of a nationwide search.

The strange story of Sanderson was disclosed today by his father-in-law, Roger A. Simonson, wealthy office equipment manufacturer.

Simonson said that his son-in-law disappeared in Florida last Sept. 1 while investigating a ring

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Japan's sudden urge to be quit of the "China affair," as Tokyo likes to euphemize its undeclared war, represents one of the great back-flops of history, but while it's astonishing as an acrobatic feat there is no deep mystery about it, since the reasons which impel the Japanese to seek peace seem clear enough.

One is that their country is in dire straits economically as the result of their unsuccessful effort through four long years to demonstrate that 70,000,000 Nipponese can sit on 458,000,000 Chinese and keep 'em down.

Another is Tokyo's desire to be free to deal with any situation growing out of the fast moving European war. For one thing, Japan is greatly worried for fear America will enter the conflict. It is understood that representatives of the triple alliance—Germany, Italy and Japan—have been conferring on that point in Rome the past few days.

Then, if we may be frank, the Japanese want to be in position to get their share of the spoils, if any. That is to say, they wish to be prepared to take advantage of any opportunity which arises. If Herr Hitler is victor, there should be some mighty rich pickings for somebody in the Dutch East Inders in permitting these flights is a clear breach of the armistice terms," Eden said.

In Berlin, nazi sources said Hitler was not expected to make a speech for the time being on the Hess episode.

Twist Complicated

Authoritative quarters in London spiced the riddle by declining to confirm unofficial but censored reports that the nazi deputy fuhrer, in defiance of Adolf Hitler's orders, flew to Britain as a self-constituted "apostle of peace."

The new twist further complicated the war's strangest story. These facts emerged:

1. A British radio spokesman first hinted broadly that Hess was divulging vital German military secrets by declaring he was talking and writing "words which will make the German high command sweat."

2. The Berlin radio subsequently insisted that Hess, suffering a "Messiah complex," flew to the Scottish estate of the Duke of Hamilton, an old friend, in the hope of bringing about an end to the war.

3. Informed British quarters then accepted this version—only to have it cast in doubt by high officials.

Statement Postponed

Churchill had been expected to make a statement on the case today, but it was later reported that he had decided to postpone it—apparently wanting more information from the deputy fuhrer before laying the whole affair before Parliament.

A highly placed American source in London declared that Hess' arrival constituted a "threat" to the defense of the British Isles and that he might be the harbinger of new, smashing attacks by the German military machine.

Blaming the British for casting "too rosy a glow" on the in-

Anxious Moments

Spring Valley, Ill., May 15.—(AP)—George Condie contends that he is perfectly able to distinguish between carbide and beans, but his fishing trip companions are a bit skeptical.

When a carbide lamp went out during the trip, Condie couldn't understand why it wouldn't light after he had "refueled" it. The answer: In the darkness he had poured in lima beans.

He had some anxious moments until he arrived home and found that his wife hadn't cooked the sack of carbide which he inadvertently left on the table.

No Opposition Seen to Minton for Judge

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—Nomination of former Senator Sherman Minton, Indiana Democrat, as a judge of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, won the approval today of a Senate judiciary subcommittee.

Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) a member of the subcommittee, said the group met today to hear any opposition to Minton, but when no one appeared recommended a favorable report on the nomination by the full committee.

Minton was nominated by President Roosevelt to fill a vacancy on the Seventh Circuit court bench, serving Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin; caused by the death of Judge Walter Treador.

Labor Minister of British Cabinet Is Skeptical

Hitler's high command said the nazi luftwaffe "effectively bombed military objectives on the islands of Malta and Crete by day and night," destroying 15 British planes on the ground in attacks on two Crete airports and shooting down eight others in fights over the island.

The Germans also asserted that nazi dive-bombers effectively interfered with allied troops landing in Suda Bay.

In the battle of the Atlantic, a German U-boat was credited with sinking a "well-armed" 20,000-ton British auxiliary cruiser.

Dispatches from Cairo said British naval planes, striking at axis supply lines, bombed an Africa-bound convoy in the Mediterranean and sank an 8,000-ton merchant ship. An axis destroyer, guarding the convoy, was also reported hit, "with clouds of smoke pouring from it."

A British communique said the fleet air arm also joined in the Iraq fighting, attacking barracks at Amara, on the Tigris river, and other objectives.

An Iraq communique said a lone RAF raider, dropped over Baghdad, the capital, and dropped a number of bombs.

"Our troops organized patrols and several contacts with the enemy," the Iraq war bulletin said.

On the African front, Premier Mussolini's high command acknowledged that British troops were exerting heavy pressure on surviving Italian columns in all sections of Ethiopia—particularly in the Amba Alaji sector, where the British, 35,000 Italians are trapped with little hope of escape.

"Our troops are resisting with extreme fury," the fascist communique declared.

In Washington, senatorial critics of the administration suggested the Hess affair indicated it was a good time for President Roosevelt to offer his services to bring about peace between the warring powers.

"It is an excellent time for any step this country might properly take in an effort to bring about peace," said Senator Brooks (R-I.).

Bad weather kept the luftwaffe and the RAF at home last night, but the British censor permitted disclosures that St. James' palace, Lambeth palace, the Old Bailey, Queen's hall, St. Clement Danes church and the Salvation Army headquarters had been damaged in recent raids in London.

Library Prepares for Bomb Attacks

Washington, May 15.—(AP)—The Library of Congress is preparing for secret storage of the originals of the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, George Washington's papers and other irreplaceable documents, in case the future makes such storage necessary.

The hiding of this priceless material, it was learned today, is part of an elaborate plan to guard the library's valuable collection from any rain of bombs and shells.

Other rare material, only slightly less valuable, would be parceled out among post offices in small Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania towns.

Some few details of the plan were disclosed in testimony, made public today, by Richard MacLeish, congressional librarian, before a house appropriations subcommittee. No mention was made in the printed testimony of "war" or "air attack," but informed sources said it was to

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

A Thought For Today

Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me.—John 14:1.

Belief consists in accepting the affirmations of the soul; unbelief in denying them.—Emerson.

Confidence

The British House of Commons the other day gave Winston Churchill a vote of confidence, 447-3, in his leadership and his conduct of the war. In the face of repeated disaster and failure, that is an amazing tribute and an amazing performance. It shows that a democracy, even when hard-pressed, can close ranks and stand firm.

Suppose a vote were possible, under similarly free conditions, among all the 150,000,000 people of Europe who are now under the German heel. It would be interesting to know whether Hitler and his new order would get 149,000,000 of those 150,000,000 votes, a similar proportion. It would be interesting to know whether, in a free election, Hitler would get 65,400,000 votes, a similar proportion of Germany's own 70,000,000 people, even after all his victories.

They are wrong, and have often been proved wrong to their cost, who say that free men cannot voluntarily stand by their own causes at least as firmly as those who stand by them because they must.

When Philosophers Rule

A plaintive little letter to the editor the other day showed pitifully the futility of a certain type of mind which still, in these hard and realistic days, lives in an ivory-towered Never-Never land. Bewailing everything in general, this gentle, well-meaning soul pleads, "I have often thought it would be better if the world's governments were headed by philosophers rather than by log-rolling politicians."

Of course. Lots of other people have had the same thought, including Plato, 2300 years ago.

But governments aren't headed by philosophers as a general thing. It's like disarmament, it's great if they all do it at once. But a world with 50 countries ruled by philosophers and one ruled by a Hitler is still a world in which an ivory tower is nothing but a bomb-target.

Hemidemisemiquaver is a 64th note in the musical scale. Wouldn't it be nice if all notes ran that long?

Trouble with lots of speakers is that when they haven't anything to say, they say it.

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, May 15 — Herr Hess' exploit with a parachute landed on the largest official desks here, atop fresh intelligence of Hitler's expanding scheme for further conquests. Der Fuehrer and his generals were reported to be concluding arrangements with Vichy to make a German base out of the African spot in which Mr. Roosevelt is most interested, Dakar. He is also supposed to be squeezing from the French a promise of passage through Syria, which would critically embarrass British defense of Suez.

The official authorities here were willing to believe this information because they have learned from the British definitely that Admiral Darlan permitted the nazis to reinforce their African armies by plane from free France.

The same lofty quarters have been advised of a reason for Stalin's recent nervousness. He no doubt has heard the same reports received here that der fuehrer intends ultimately to push through Russia to the Ural's (yes, the whole of European Russia.)

Stalin has been running around trying to contrive pleasant gestures (such as premature recognition of the Iraq revolt) in hopes of pleasing the nazis.

For these reasons the London versions that Hess turned against Hitler because he hated Russia have been swallowed here with a whole tablespoon of salt, and even so are not palatable. The authorities here are inclined, however, to accept practically anything London wants to say about Hess as another method of aiding Britain. They had no straight worthwhile information, as the White House has publicly stated.

If the conflicting jargon in the world news is slightly confusing, you are still in the official boat with the biggest crowd of officials and citizens. Only if everything is clear to you, should you start worrying.

For instance, the administration sent Frank Bane, director of state and local cooperation in the defense setup, to the house public buildings committee to explain the new defense public works bill. Asked by a committeeman how local communities would benefit, Bane replied: "You will note that the bill states that this fund and this appropriation, if made will be administered in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by the president. The bill also states, however, that the fund is appropriated to provide facilities made necessary by the defense effort. So I would assume that someone will have to determine what facilities are necessary. I certainly imagine that would be in charge of the Federal Works Agency."

The committee thereupon assumed and imagined it also was in a fog and rewrote the bill.

But the classic example of confusion naturally to be expected from the vast hurried defense enterprise is furnished by what has happened to the famous Sunnyvale dirigible base in California.

Navy Secretary Knox wrote Congress April 22 opposing a bill to establish three new dirigible bases. Navy Captain Fosendahl told constructed. Wrote Knox: "The matter has been discussed with the president who feels that further consideration for the establishment of lighter than air stations should be postponed for awhile."

Sixteen days later, on May 6, Navy Captain Fosendahl told constructed the president had approved 2,000,000 for the three bases, one near San Francisco to cost $7,500,000. Members asked what happened to Sunnyvale, the old dirigible base in that area. The evidence indicated Sunnyvale had been transferred to the army many months ago and could not be transferred back to the navy because the army had spent much money improving it. Instead, $3,000,000 would have to be spent to duplicate the Sunnyvale hangar simply because the army instead of the navy now owns it.

Battleship Receives Commission Half Year Ahead of Its Schedule

Philadelphia, May 15—(AP)—A new and deadly link joins the nation's defense chain today with commissioning of the mighty battleship Washington six months ahead of schedule.

Rushed to completion in three years at a cost of $70,000,000, America's most powerful dreadnaught raises the U. S. fleet's battleship strength to 17 vessels.

Secretary of the Navy Knox will be the only speaker at brief but colorful ceremonies (1 P. M. CST) marking passing of the 35,000-ton ship from navy yard builders to her captain and crew.

Just a month ago the Washington's sister ship North Carolina was commissioned at Brooklyn navy yard. They are the first battleships built by this country in 18 yards and are the first of 17 ordered in the defense expansion program to give the nation a two-ocean navy. Sea trials are scheduled later with the vessels joining the fleet in several months.

SERIAL STORY

THREE TO MAKE READY

BY W. H. PEARS

YESTERDAY: Realizing that she loves irresponsible Chris, Paula knows she has a rival in Kilo Sherwood, campus beauty who heads the Anti-Fraternity League. This group has been stirring up trouble, trying to drive fraternalists from Cardman's campus. When League members kidnapped an orchestra member, President Van Horn ordered the League members to stop interfering with rights of other students. Meetings are now secret. Under Kilo's urging, Chris challenges a professor in class, gets a quick reprieve. Chris breaks a date with Paul to meet Kilo.

CHAPTER III

WATCHING Chris's tall figure disappear across the campus, Paula Jeffers thought, "Kissed and stood up all in one day! No girl should take that from a man."

Yet she was more anxious than angry, more hurt than resentful. Chris was still Chris, and you couldn't take him at face value. You had to go deeper . . .

Aimlessly Paula strolled toward the village of Cardman Center. The main street slumbered in a warm haze of sunshine. In front of the Sweetland a small blue coupe caught her eye. Recognizing it as Bill Jenks', Paula abruptly decided to have a cup of coffee.

Later the Sweetland would bustle with students, but now it was dusky and quiet as a crypt. A squat, ugly man sat in one of the booths. He was occupied with a sandwich, but his roving eyes missed nothing.

Paul took a deep breath. If, as Tony suspected, Bill was after a story about the League she wanted to know why.

"Hello, Bill."

Jenks hid his surprise behind a crooked grin. "Hello, there, honey. Have some coffee?"

"Thanks," Paula seated herself opposite him. "I don't believe you remember me."

His tiny eyes studied Paula, from her shining bronze hair to her slim ankles. "I've got it now. You're the little gal the Gamma Taus sent to New York last year to make a speech."

"That's right," Paula said. "You gave us a grand write-up. I decided right then if I ever heard of a good story, I'd let you know."

Jenks cocked his head. "Something cooking on the campus?"

Paula nodded. "I'm not sure I ought to mention it."

"Go on, honey," Bill urged. "If you're worried about getting yourself in Dutch, forget it. I wouldn't last long in this game if I let my friends down."

"I—I really haven't much," Paula confessed. "It's about the League."

Bill Jenks hunched forward. "No fooling? Say, that's a coincidence! I came over here to—"

She reached Chris just as the flash lighted the barn. There was a rush for Bill Jenks, but the reporter had disappeared.

tonight. Do you want to go along?"

"What for?" Paula gasped. Bill grinned enigmatically. "I just thought you might like to see what goes on. Besides, I can use you to jot down the names of the people I don't know. How about it?"

Suspicious, Paula hesitated, trying to find some motive for his offer. But it was her chance to learn what she wanted to know.

She said, "It's a date."

BILL JENKS was on time. Paula stepped into the blue coupe, her heart beating fast. Was she doing the right thing? Even now she didn't trust the impulse that had led her to accept the invitation. Vaguely she felt that if she could learn more about the League, how deeply Chris was involved, she might be able to help him.

They drove out the main highway, then turned onto a dirt road. Presently Jenks pulled over and said, "All out, honey. We're hoofing the rest of the way."

They plodded down the road. Paula silently grateful for the low-heeled oxfords she'd worn. Bill Jenks, carrying a small camera, helped her under a wire fence and they stumbled across newly plowed ground.

"There it is," Bill said, pointing to a huge, dilapidated barn. "Headquarters for the League. Sumptuous, eh?"

Abruptly Paula wondered if the whole affair wasn't pretty silly. It was hard to imagine a bunch of grown-up college students holding secret meetings in an old barn. It was still harder to imagine a tough newshound like Jenks being taken in by anything so childish.

Jenks said, "It's ringside seats for us. That's why I came early. You stay here while I make certain no one's around." He returned in a moment. "Okay, come along."

The interior of the barn was rank with the odor of moldy hay. It was still light enough to see and Bill Jenks pointed out a big bale of hay.

"There's just room enough to squeeze in here," he said. "Now you write down the names of everyone you know."

"Aren't they going to be pretty angry if they . . ." Paula's voice shook.

"They won't find us," Bill said. "There's a door just behind. When I've heard enough I'll squeeze your arm. You get started. I'll grab a shot of this bunch and run for it." Jenks held up his finger. "Shh."

THE barn door whined. Someone struck a match. The soft yellow glow of a kerosene lamp filled the place with dancing shadows. Two boys whom Paula had seen around the campus entered.

More students began to arrive. Presently there were 25 or 30 squatted on the hay-strewn floor. A girl asked, "Where's Kilo? She's bringing a new member tonight."

As if in reply, the door opened and Kilo Sherwood's hair made a bright spot in the gloom. Chris Wentrich, looking amused, walked by her side.

Paula could tell by the expression on Chris's face that he was taking the whole affair as a lark. A part of him, she thought, had never grown up, and it was this part that loved a secret meeting in an old barn.

Kilo said, facing the group, "Meeting called to order. Before presenting our new member, I want to say this: The League has grown stagnant. We've allowed President Van Horn's stuffy order to interfere with our activities."

"We promised ourselves to do our own thinking and to act on our honest convictions, but in a few weeks many of us will leave Cardman with our mission unfulfilled. We swore to fight fraternity rule and the administration that backs it, but the Greek-letter outfits are stronger than ever . . ."

LISTENING, Paula found herself paying no attention to Kilo's words, but giving her whole attention to the deep, husky voice. There was witchery in it, an almost hypnotic quality.

Presently Kilo finished and called to Chris. Bill Jenks squeezed Paula's arm. She heard him fumbling with his camera. She saw lantern light reflected in the flash bulb as he raised it. Paula grabbed for the camera, but Jenks was too quick for her. He gave her a shove that sent her spinning from the hiding place.

She was on her feet in an instant, running to warn Chris. Just as she reached him the flash bulb exploded. Pademonium held the barn, then there was a concerted rush for Bill Jenks, but Bill Jenks was gone.

Chris faced Paula, his mouth tight-set. "A dirty trick like this seems a little out of your line, Paula."

She said, "Chris, you—you don't think . . . I tried to protect you." Kilo Sherwood's laugh was scornful, angry.

Chris said sullenly, "I hate meddlers, Paula, even if they're supposed to be my pals!"

Yost-Spears Bridal Is Read at Church Altar

Miss Lucille Elizabeth Spears, daughter of Mrs. Hattie Spears of Clarian, and George C. Yost, son of Mrs. Mary Yost of Mendota, exchanged nuptial vows in a double ring ceremony solemnized Wednesday afternoon at St. John's Evangelical church on the old Chicago road. The Rev. Mr. Webbing performed the 2 o'clock ceremony.

The bride's floor-length gown of white satin was designed on princess lines, with leg-o-mutton sleeves, and a train. Her full-length veil was fastened with a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses, streamers and blue forget-me-nots. Her only ornament was a necklace of crystals and pearls.

Mrs. Delphian Schlessinger attended the bride as matron of honor, and wore blue net, trimmed with lace to match. A tiara of flowers held her blusher veil, and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Miss Elaine Spears, the bride's niece, and Miss Bette Moore, bridesmaids, were dressed respectively in yellow chiffon and rose chiffon. Their gowns were made alike with fitted bodices, short puff sleeves, and full skirts. Their blusher veils matched their dresses, and they carried colonial bouquets.

Geraldine Funfsin, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She was wearing peach-colored taffeta with green trim, and carried a basket of mixed flowers. Norma Jean Eich, niece of the bridegroom, and Bruce Miller, nephew of the bride, carried the rings. Norma was wearing aqua taffeta with peach-toned accents, and Bruce was dressed in white. The rings were placed in a Calla Lily.

Albert and Ralph Yost, brothers of the bridegroom, were his attendants. Ushers were Delphian Schlessinger and Leroy Freidlein. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Spears wore dusty rose sheer with navy accessories and a corsage of roses. Mrs. Yost was attired in blue sheer with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

White wedding bells and streamers, and large baskets of salmon-colored gladioli, decorated the church altar. A wedding dinner was served for 40 guests at the Dinner Bell in LaMoille. Several hundred friends and relatives honored the couple at a reception and dance later in the evening at the Sublette Commu-

May Days Are Busy Days for Brides-to-Be

A four-hour examination to be written in Chicago, together with two pre-nuptial parties last evening made Wednesday a busy day for a June bride-to-be, Miss Louise Hintz, fiancée of Lyle Snader of Washington, D. C.

At the conclusion of the examination, required for the title of certified public health nurse, Miss Hintz returned to Dixon in time to share honors with two other guests of honor at a dinner party arranged by faculty members and special teachers of the North Central school. Miss Pearl Richards, physical education instructor who is to become the bride of John Babcock, a Chicagoan, next September, and Miss Jane Franks, who is resigning from the faculty after many years of service as first grade teacher, shared the party compliment with Miss Hintz.

Dinner at Peter Piper's was followed by presentation of gifts at the Loveland Community House. Covers were arranged for 19.

A bouquet of tulips, which formed the centerpiece on the dinner table, was later presented to Mrs. Frank Kennedy (Merriam Deveney), a bride of the holiday season, who is also resigning from the faculty. Salad plates in her crystal pattern were Miss Richards' bridal gift. Mr. Snader's fiancée received shepherds in her chosen design, and Miss Franks was given an occasional table.

Robert Pruitt, the school principal, spoke in behalf of the teachers. Later in the evening, Mrs. Richard McNicol of Battle Creek, Mich., was entertaining with a bridge party and cotton shower at the Herbert Nichols home for Miss Hintz and another young woman who is planning a June wedding. Miss Emily Swan, Friends who entertained for the hostess as Miss Betty Nichols, before her marriage to Mr. McNicol a year ago, were included on the guest list.

Miss Leone Kreim and Miss Swan received favors in the card games. A heart-shaped wreath of valley lilies and a miniature bridal pair were the centerpiece on Mrs. McNicol's all-white refreshment table.

Mrs. Carl Gatz, Miss Stata Burke, Mrs. John Davis and Mrs. Lenhart were co-hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Claire Mathias of Lanark, Mrs. Harold Donaldson, Mrs. Melvin Hurdle, and Mrs. Vincent Olson of Lanark held guest tables in the card games.

Phidians Study Mass Pottery; Hear Miss Haeger

Members of the Phidian Art club concluded their study for the year Tuesday afternoon at the Loveland Community House. Through the courtesy of Mrs. George B. Shaw, the clubwomen heard an enlightening lecture on "Mass Production Pottery," presented by Miss Elsa Haeger of Dundee and Chicago.

Miss Haeger believes that pottery is the most interesting study of romantic industry, demonstrating the evolution from drab clay to beautiful objects of many designs and colors. It is the oldest of the arts, she explained, with both records and examples dating many years before Christ having been found in Egypt, Greece, and China.

Development of the potter's wheel, the clubwomen learned, has been traced from a flat boulder to the modern motor-powered implement that quickly shapes the vase or bowl. Miss Haeger spoke of the outstanding contributions made to the pottery industry by various countries, including color effects from China, unsurpassed lustre from Persia, majolica from Italy, and Wedgwood from England. Of all the Indian tribes, she said, those in southwestern United States are the most proficient.

There are three classes of pottery, Miss Haeger told her listeners: Porcelain, which is translucent, with body and glaze the same color; earthenware, with color applied to the clay; and stoneware, which is heavier and coarser. In commercial pieces, the clay has been strained and air bubbles cut out to avoid imperfections. When the article has been shaped in a plaster of paris mold, color is applied in the form of a glaze, either by dipping or spraying, and frequently, one color is applied upon another.

By firing in a hot kiln, the clay is hardened, and the color is developed. The early bottle-shaped kiln was described and compared to the modern tunnel kiln, where flat cars of pottery are carried along a track and subjected to regulated heat.

At the beginning of her talk, Miss Haeger filled a plaster of paris mold with thin clay which she called "slip." Occasionally the mold was turned to drain, and at the conclusion of her lecture, an attractive vase ready for glazing and burning was exhibited.

CHICAGO EXHIBIT

Mrs. Mark Keller, Sr. presided at the opening of the program. Mrs. Winston Edwards and Mrs. Arthur Morris were hostesses for the afternoon. Spring flowers decorated the tea table, where Mrs. Keller poured.

Miss Turpin of Mendota Is Bride of Henry Meyers

Miss Lily Mae Turpin, daughter of Mrs. Greta Hoffer of Mendota, and Henry Meyer, son of the senior Meyers of Arlington, exchanged bridal vows in a double ring ceremony solemnized at 3 p. m. Wednesday at the Arlington Catholic church. The Rev. Father James Garahan performed the nuptial ceremony.

The bride chose a princess street dress of white silk pique with a white leghorn hat for her wedding attire. White roses and valley lilies formed her shoulder corsage.

Her attendant, Miss Elizabeth Setchell was dressed in beige flat crepe, with a wide-brimmed Tuscan hat. At her shoulder was a corsage of tea roses.

Mrs. Meyers was graduated from Mendota high school in 1938, and is employed in the law office of John W. Dubbs. The bridegroom formerly attended Hall high school at Spring Valley, and is with the engineering department of the H. D. Conkey company of Mendota.

A wedding dinner was served for 20 guests at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chancy Mead of Mendota. Later, the couple were honored at a reception and dance at Arlington, with about 200 guests attending.

When Mr. Meyers and his bride left later on a brief wedding trip, Mrs. Meyers was wearing a blue redingote with Japonica accents. The couple will reside at LaMoille.

May Showers Keep Golfers at Card Tables

Yesterday's May showers left a trail of water-logged golf links in its wake, and succeeded in tossing a wet blanket over first-of-the-season plans for feminine golfers at the Dixon Country club. Nevertheless, 16 clubwomen gathered in the club dining room for their first luncheon of the 1941 season, and after anxiously scanning the skies for the sun for a while before putting their clubs away, settled down at the card tables for the afternoon.

Mrs. Gunnar Nilsson, sports chairman, conducted a brief business meeting, with discussion centering about further plans for the season's program. Mrs. James Daily of Sandusky, Ohio attended as the guest of Mrs. James Furlong.

Last evening, junior linkswomen were playing for blind bogey at their second weekly supper match of the season. Mrs. Mark Keller, Jr. and Miss Helen Krug were presented with golf balls when score cards were compared. Twenty-two were present for supper, served by Mrs. Jack Sharkey, new club cateress.

During a brief business meeting conducted by Miss Bettie Haines, chairman, the group voted against staking a trophy match during the summer.

BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

Mrs. George Beier was entertaining at luncheon today at "Beiercliff" for her contract club of eight. Mrs. Elmer Hubert and Mrs. Lloyd Miller were invited guests.

GMC Workers Quit

three plants, with 8,500 employees, but union officials said work on a $10,000,000 defense order for airplane parts was not affected. The union demanded a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase in un-announced current scales at the Hudson Company. The board of directors considered the union demands. Claude E. Bland, president of the local union, said "the company refused any decent wage offer."

T. A. Johnstone of the General Motors division of the UAW-CIO said at Detroit he was trying to get the 12,300 Chevrolet workers back on their jobs. The walkout also closed a Fisher body plant, with 1,100 workers.

Colt Strike Settled

The General Motors postponement came shortly after settlement of a two-day strike at Colt's Patent Fire Arms Manufacturing Company at Hartford, Conn.

William S. Knudsen, chief of the Office of Production Management, termed the GM situation "damningly serious."

The mediation board announced that the management of General Motors had until 3:10 A. M. (CST) Friday to accept or reject the findings and recommendations which the board made for settlement. The findings and recommendations will not be made public, the board announced, until they have been accepted or rejected by the corporation.

Representatives of the CIO United Automobile Workers, it was added, have accepted the terms "without reservation" but subject to ratification by the union membership.

Confer 18 Hours

The announcement came at dawn, with the negotiators haggard after 18 hours of almost unbroken conferences.

Nub of the controversy appeared to be the union's demand for a general wage boost of 10 cents an hour. The corporation has said the present wage average is slightly more than $1 an hour, and made the union a counter-offer of 2 cents increase generally, with greater increases for certain skilled ratings.

General Motors has about $750,000,000 in defense contracts, but union leaders declared that only $160,000,000 of the orders were in plants which would be affected by a strike. Even in those plants, the union said, defense work would not be interfered with. But company officials asserted that defense work could not be segregated.

With settlement of the Colt strike at Hartford, 5,600 munitions workers were ordered back to their jobs after a two-day tie-up in the nation's largest machine gun factory.

Terms of Settlement

Robert F. Mintz, organizer for the CIO United Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers, announced that the terms of settlement added $2,000,000 annually in increased wages and liberalized vacation schedules. It provided a flat wage increase of seven cents an hour, he said with a minimum of 45 cents an hour for women employees and 50 cents for men. The company said hourly wage scales had been between 50 cents and $1.20 but Mintz contended some employees got as little as 37 cents an hour.

A strike which had held up construction of a $30,000,000 naval shipyard in Boston was settled, but shipyard strikes in the San Francisco Bay area continued to tie up $500,000,000 worth of naval construction. Details of the Boston settlement were not announced immediately, but the strikers had protested use of WPA workers on the project.

The west coast shipyard disputes were discussed yesterday by Sidney Hillman, associate director of the Office of Production Management, in a conference with President Roosevelt. Hillman told reporters he had asked the help of the international president of the AFL machinists in ending the shipyard strikes.

The strikers, who include both CIO and AFL machinists, ask a wage increase from $1 to $1.15 an hour, and retention of double pay for overtime.

Strike Called for Monday

A strike was called for Monday morning by 1,500 AFL members at the Johns-Manville Corporation plant at Manville, N. J. The union members ask a wage increase of 15 cents an hour. Present basic pay is 60 cents an hour for men, 55 for women. The company management said that half of present orders, totalling $25,000,000 are for national defense supplies.

Rumblings of new labor trouble continued in the soft coal industry, while bituminous operators made ready to confer today with representatives of the CIO United Mine Workers. John L. Lewis, union president, has declared that if wage agreement with southern operators could not be reached this week, the union would be forced to consider a work stoppage throughout the eight-state Appalachian district.

The management of the Atlanta, Birmingham & Coast Railroad asked the National Mediation Board for help in averting a threatened strike of 275 trainmen, engineers and yard service employees set for Friday. The men seek improved working conditions and wage increases. Engineers now get $5.37 to $6.69 a day and want $7.07 to $8.64. Trainmen from $3.54 to $4.43 and want $5.51 to $6.62; hostlers $3.12 to $4.36 and want $5.51 to $6.80.

Civilian pilot training courses are given in approximately 709 colleges and 211 non-college units.

In further argument against convoys, he contended that no new lease-lend equipment was piling up awaiting shipment; that no lease-lend supplies had been sunk, and that the most expensive weapons now going to Britain were bombers which are being flown over.

Contradicts President

He also said it was his understanding that all of the $1,300,000,000 of existing army and navy equipment legally transferable under the lease-lend act had been sent abroad before the act was passed, so no convoys were needed for that.

(Wheeler's claim that no cargoes were piling up here for lack of shipping space contradicted a statement made by President Roosevelt on April 30 when he called for a shipping pool of 2,000,000 tons to expedite movement of supplies. "Vital war materials," he said on that occasion, "are piling up at the ports or delayed at the factories".

In urging adoption of his amendment to bar transfer of any axis ships to Britain, Vandenberg told the senate yesterday if it were approved he would support the bill.

"A neutral," he said, "can't take the ships of one belligerent nation and transfer them to another without committing a provocative act of war. "These needless acts of war finally will amount to a challenge that will bring us into the blood and tears of the conflict itself despite the prayers of 90 per cent of the American people".

Weekly Food and Marketing Letter by Mrs. Emily M. Lautz for Dixon Telegraph Readers

Spring inventory in the home is more appropriate than a January check-up. The annual rebirth of Nature is reflected in a re-awakening of interest in rearranging and refurnishing the home—a sort of "out with the old, in with the new" spirit.

Nor is inventory time limited to indoors, for the clean-up drive logically begins in the yard with the weeding out of rubbish as well as dried plant life, and extends through garden and garage. A tidy approach usually is the index of an orderly home.

Spring clean-up programs in communities throughout the nation are being approached this year with more determination by members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, according to Mrs. Chester E. Edwards, chairman of the Home Safety Division. In a message to all homemakers, Mrs. Edwards declared:

"Our national defense program calls for unified effort by all citizens. We must use every opportunity to conserve as well as to produce. This year, 1941, should call for the best effort of clubwomen everywhere in the reduction of losses arising from home accidents and fires. While efforts are being made to speed up production on our industrial front, the least the women of the country can do is to make our homes safe places in which to live."

The slogan of the Spring Clean-up program this year is: "Dirt, drabness, desolation, disease and death deter defense."

This is the theme of the program which has been sent to the state and district Home Safety chairmen in every state by Mrs. Edwards. The program was drafted by T. Alfred Fleming, chairman of the National Fire Protection Association committee in charge of the annual observance of the occasion.

Mrs. Edwards has provided club women with a statement of objectives for Spring Clean-up Week. If every homemaker adopted these suggestions, the nation would be safer, as well as orderly and more inviting to live in. Here are the objectives:

"Good housekeeping is a cardinal rule in fire prevention. Accumulations of rubbish should be removed from cellars, attics, closets, garages and barns. Yards can be cleaned. Homes, outbuildings and fences can be painted. Walks and driveways can be placed in good condition. Yards and gardens can be spruced up for the Spring season.

"Check over the furniture and equipment in the house, repairing steps that need mending and furniture that is broken. Have permanent electric wiring installed where temporary equipment is being continually used. Inspect and re-charge fire extinguishers or provide them where they are needed. When you buy electrical equipment or fire extinguishers, be sure they carry the approval label of the Underwriters' Laboratories."

SAUERKRAUT A TONIC

Sauerkraut and sauerkraut juice are being boosted for their tonic and vitamin value by medical men. It is pointed out that the slight acidity of sauerkraut safeguards against the destruction of vitamins in cooking—and this food now is approved as containing four vitamins, A, B, C and the new vitamin E.

Sauerkraut juice also contains some very valuable and essential mineral elements which are readily assimilated by the human system. These mineral elements consist of potassium, sodium, calcium, magnesium, iron, phosphorus, silicon and others. It is a very valuable compound as an ordinary food in assisting to furnish the human system with essential and important mineral elements of growth and maintenance.

Authorities go as far as to call sauerkraut a "medicinal food," but concede that there is no reason why those who enjoy the dish cannot forget the tonic properties and eat sauerkraut for its good taste alone.

Dr. Daniel R. Hodgdon, president of a medical college and a noted educator, wrote that "the presence of the lactic acid bacillus in sauerkraut juice furnishes an excellent means for the introduction of this highly beneficial bacillus into the system."

Dr. Hodgdon added that sauerkraut juice contains a rich supply of vitamins A and B and that is especially rich in vitamin C, so important in stimulating normal growth as well as building up resistance to infection. He added:

"Further sauerkraut juice contains a more recently discovered vitamin called vitamin E, which is concerned in maintaining health in the productive organs and which seems to be important in the processes of metabolism."

Asparagus Demands Careful Treatment

It is time to feast on asparagus, now that native crops in competition with heavy shipments arriving from California and the Southern states.

The enjoyment of fresh asparagus begins with marketing care, since the moment this vegetable is cut it is on its way to becoming fibrous. Quantity buying does not apply here; never buy more than enough for a meal at one time. The safest guide to quality is the heads. They should be tightly, neatly closed, and should show no signs of withering. Allow one-quarter pound per serving.

And then the washing! No laundry needs more thorough and painstaking attention than asparagus for sand will lodge unseen in the eight tips. Wash it under running water to remove all grit. If the ends of the stalks seem tough, peel the outer shell with a sharp knife. Then tie the stalks together to cook upright.

If you have no special asparagus boiler, a double boiler will do the trick. The stems will boil tender in the shallow water in the lower half, and the heads, covered by the upper inverted part of the double boiler (acting as a cover), will cook in a little cloud of steam. No vegetable demands more careful cooking than asparagus, and the double boiler method solves the problem of using only a small amount of water, and cooking tender the tougher stalks ends without overcooking the tips. Some homemakers use their coffee pots to cook the vegetable upright.

Part of the asparagus may be served hot, with ample melted butter, with some firm stalks reserved for salad next day. If the asparagus is to be served cold, it will be firmer if immediately after cooking it is plunged briefly in cold water—and drained quickly.

Folks, I want you to try my new FULL FLAVOR Strawberry Cream Pie

says
Aunt Jenny

Strawberry Cream Pie

2 teaspoons gelatin 1 cup confectioners' sugar
2 tablespoons cold water 1 1/2 cups lemon juice
1 cup heavy cream, whipped 1 1/2 cups strawberry jam
2 cups sliced fresh strawberries (1 pint)

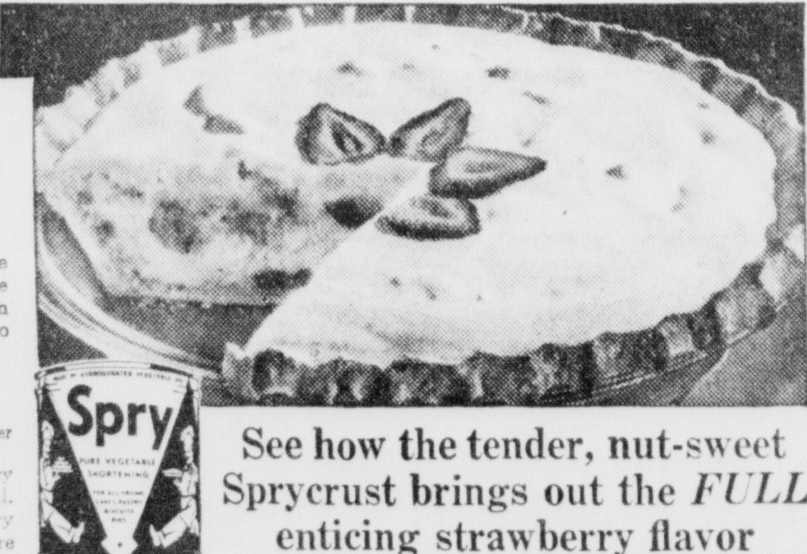

Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Cool slightly. Combine whipped cream, strawberries, sugar, lemon juice, salt and gelatin mixture. Pour into baked pie shell and chill in refrigerator.

Spry Pie Shell

1 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour 7 tablespoons Spry
1/2 teaspoon salt 3 tablespoons cold water (about)

Sift flour and salt together. Add 1/2 of Spry and put in until mixture is as fine as meal. (Makes crust tender.) Add remaining Spry and continue cutting until particles are size of a large pea. Sprinkle water gradually over mixture. (Makes crust flaky.) Use Spry and this Spry way of mixing for all pastry—(hear the compliments you get!)

With a fork work lightly together until a dough is formed. Roll dough 1/4-inch thick and prick with a fork. Fit dough into 9-inch pan. Trim pastry 1 inch larger than pan and turn back edge. Flute rim. Bake in very hot oven (450° F.) 12 to 15 minutes. (All measurements in these recipes are level)

See how the tender, nut-sweet
Sprycrust brings out the FULL enticing strawberry flavor

"HERE'S a pie you could write a poem about," says Aunt Jenny. "The filling's a dream, the flavor is wonderful! Don't risk spoiling it with crust that's even a mite off-flavor. Avoid ordinary shortenings. Use purer Spry an' get crust as dainty an' delicate as the fillin'. Do all your bakin' an' fryin' with Spry an' start today!"

Camp Life

(By The Associated Press)

Camp Blanding, Fla.—A young selectee mailed a post card to the members of his selective service board. It read:

"Having a wonderful time. Wish I had you here."

Camp Upton, N. Y.—The troopers on this reservation don't call the Brooklyn Dodgers "daffy" any more but they believe that some of the team's supporters are still that way.

They could cite the case of a Brooklyn boy who was quite naturally, a baseball bug. He learned that he was to be drafted a week before the opening game. So he filed a conscientious objector's protest. While it was clearing the customary channels, he saw the Giants trim the Dodgers in the first tilt of the season; then withdrew his objection and donned a soldier's uniform here.

Camp Bowie, Tex.—The mess sergeants of the Thirty-Sixth division report that beans are the most popular dish. "The men," they avow, "call for more seconds on beans than anything else."

Camp Barkeley, Tex.—Private Thomas Sutton, an Oklahoma selectee, suffered quite a shock when he scanned his induction report. The carbon, it seemed, had slipped and his physical characteristics were noted as follows: "Frame—red; color of hair—blue; color of eyes—ruddy; complexion—no comment."

Labor day was set aside as a day of "rest".

Eleven New State Armories Planned by Armory Board

Springfield, Ill., May 15.—(AP)—Plans to construct eleven new state armories in Illinois moved a step forward today when the house appropriations committee approved for passage a bill including an initial outlay to finance the building bonds.

Recommended for passage was a bill appropriating $164,800 for rentals of the new armories, which would be constructed by the State Armory Board through sale of bonds plus federal WPA assistance. Future rental appropriations would amortize the bonds over a 24-year period.

Adjutant General Leo M. Boyle said the Federal Works Progress Administration has been asked to allocate a total of $1,100,000 to the armory program, or $100,000 for each of the proposed new buildings, the maximum amount permitted under WPA regulations.

In Regular Bill
The armories appropriation item was included in the regular biennial appropriation bill calling for a total of $2,886,350 for the state's military establishment, including the Reserve Militia, National Guard, armory maintenance and the adjutant general's office.

General Boyle said architect's plans for the new armory buildings still are incomplete but that construction is planned to begin during the summer. Cities in which the armory board has announced intention to build armories are Chicago, Alton, Bloomington, Macomb, East St. Louis, Galva, Joliet, Moline, Paris, Springfield and Sterling.

Amounts to be allocated for construction of each of the buildings still is undetermined, General Boyle added.

Ministers No War Committee Plans "Peace Meetings"

Chicago, May 15.—(AP)—The Ministers' No War Committee plans to launch a series of church mass meetings throughout the United States May 22 in a "Churchmen's campaign for peace through mediation."

The committee, claiming a membership of more than 1,500 Protestant clergymen, has as campaign chairman Dr. Albert W. Palmer, president of the Chicago Theological Seminary, who said that 28 prominent ministers would address the meetings. First of the series will be held May 22 in Cleveland with Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick of New York and Dr. Ernest Fremont Title of Evanston, Ill., as speakers.

Dr. Palmer explained that the series would urge this country's non-involvement in the conflict abroad as well as the "need for American mediation" to restore peace in Europe.

"We are not isolationists and we are not appeasers," he said. "A just and durable peace is our motto and we feel that it can be obtained by mediation rather than war."

News

We had our second baptism in dust this week, but it doesn't bother us much anymore. If you don't believe it gets dusty just ask Hal Roberts or Charles Miller. They were down here last Tuesday with Miss Glee Rutherford to see Pvt. Billy Burrs and the rest of the boys. They drove out to the rifle range where the wind sometimes would sweep up a wall of dust that obscured the targets only 200 yards from the firing line. Some of the boys did right well, in spite of the wind and the dirt in their hair. Sergeants Albert J. Bieschke and Louis W. Valbert and First Sergeant Joseph W. Gasser qualified as marksmen. Pfc. Jim J. Pierce and Pvt. Lloyd R. Buckingham, Clifford G. Esterday, Lyle W. Etheridge, Morris C. Mead and Donald E. Peterson also qualified as marksmen.

Incidentally Lt. Wayne Wolfe sent here for his shooting coat, and because we don't hear very much from "The Skipper" we are wondering how the grouse shooting is in Georgia. What was your score Lieutenant?

There were about 5,000 visitors for Mother's Day and Co. A had its share of mothers and wives and sweethearts. Phyllis Wagner and Roberta Reid came with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Washburn to see Sgt. Leroy Wagner; Miss Lucille Rosenblum was here with Pvt. Charles Lally; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adams; Mr. and Mrs. William Adams and Mrs. Kenneth Adams; Mrs. Leona Valbert came to see Sgt. Louis Valbert; Miss Kathryn Packler and Miss Elsie Esterday were here with Pvt. Clifford Esterday; Mrs. Edna Mielke to see Pfc. Leslie Mielke; Mrs. Alice O'Brien to see Corp. Max Fordham; Mrs. Hazel Hepper to see Sgt. Joe Hepper; Mrs. Lavina Crabtree to see Corp. Milton Crabtree; Miss Lorraine Dalke to see Corp. Edwin Voss; Miss Marian Sanders to see Pfc. Edward Dawson; Miss Dorothy Oswalt to see Sgt. James VanMatre; Miss Carolyn Fortney to see Corp. Edward Croft; Mrs. Josephine Killeen to see Pvt. Paul Killeen; Mrs. Ralph Smith to see Pvt. Charles Zinke; Miss Genevieve Jeanblanc and Mrs. Alex Jeanblanc to see Pvt. Sylvian Jeanblanc; Mrs. Ethyl White to see Corp. Charles White; Mrs. Frances Senn and Mrs. Mabel Nagle to see Pvt. George Nagle; Mrs. B. Buckingham to see Pvt. Robert Buckingham; Mrs. Ray S. Kline and Miss Eleanor Liston to see Pfc. James Kline; Mrs. Scott Smith to see Corp. Scott Smith; Mrs. Melvin Moser to see Pvt. Melvin Moser; Mr. and Mrs. Adam Fazzi to see Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fazzi to see Pvt. Leleio Fazzi; Mrs. George Montean to see Pvt. Louis Gabary.

The traditional spirit of Mother's Day attained the highest level here in camp. But we feel rather selfish because of the tribute the women paid us by enduring an eleven hundred mile trip for such a short visit. They are really the best soldiers.

The rookies rode out to the range this week to begin their preliminary firing. From the anxiety shown by some of the new men to become expert riflemen, you would think they were going to draw a head on a certain guy with a little black moustache.

Charges Barrett Not Enforcing Injunction

Springfield, Ill., May 15—(AP)—Rep. Paul Powell (D-Vt.) told the executive committee of the Illinois House of Representatives late yesterday that he had "reason to believe" Attorney General George F. Barrett was not enforcing a statewide anti-handbook injunction.

Powell failed, however, to win immediate approval of his resolution which would create a special legislative committee to investigate enforcement of the injunction issued last Dec. 3 by the St. Clair county Circuit court at Belleville against almost 2,000 alleged handbook operators in the state.

Accompanying Powell to the hearing was James O. Monroe, Collinsville newspaper publisher and former state Senator. Representative Powell asked that Monroe be permitted to "present evidence that he has in connection with this subject", but the committee voted instead to set up a subcommittee to hear Monroe's testimony at a hearing next Tuesday.

CANTON BANK DIVIDED

Chicago, May 15—(AP)—Arthur C. Lueder, state Auditor of Public Accounts, said today he had authorized payment of a 9 per cent dividend totaling $64,454.39, to approximately 3,000 depositors of the closed First State Bank & Trust Company of Canton.

Lueder said the payment was the 9th and final dividend and brings the total paid to depositors up to 85 per cent.

Propose Roosevelt Make Peace Move

Hess Flight Cited as Marking Auspicious Time for Action

Washington, May 15—(AP)—Citing the flight of Rudolf Hess as indication the time may be propitious, senatorial critics of administration foreign policy made suggestions today that President Roosevelt use his good offices now to bring about peace between Great Britain and Germany.

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) said that the escape of the No. 3 man in the Nazi hierarchy to Scotland "is bound to have profoundly adverse effect on the morale of the German people."

Moreover, he told reporters, the incident seemed to have created "an opportunity for the President of the United States to step out and try to prevent the further slaughter of human beings."

"He might be able to bring about a peace on the United States terms," Wheeler declared. "The people in England didn't want war and the people of Germany didn't want war. If the President would follow the wishes of the American people he would seek a peace. It would at least be worthwhile for him to try to bring order out of chaos."

Expressing a similar view, Senator Brooks (R-Ill.) said that the Hess incident "has provided a break" for a peace gesture. "It is an excellent time for any step this country might properly take in an effort to bring about peace," he declared.

On the other hand, Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said he believed Hess' landing in Scotland might be part of a preconceived plan by Hitler to bring peace terms to the attention of the English without personally appearing to offer the olive branch.

Might Have Been Sent

Pepper, who saw Hess at Munich in 1938, said he could not bring himself to believe that the Nazi party leader ever would desert Hitler. Rather, he speculated, Hess might have been sent to do what he could toward convincing the British that they ought to negotiate with Hitler to end the war.

"When you hear about Harry Hopkins turning his back on President Roosevelt, taking a plane and parachuting down in Germany, then you can believe that Hess has split with Hitler," he told reporters.

"In my opinion, it is an audacious trick, so big and so monstrous that the people will believe it. Hess is just another Trojan horse."

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate foreign relations committee said he saw little possibility that Roosevelt would intervene in the European conflict in an effort to obtain peace at present. The Chief Executive, he declared, might reason that any such intervention would be embarrassing to Great Britain.

"I have always believed," remarked Senator Clark (D-Mo.), a foe of administration foreign policy and a member of the foreign relations group, "that the question of peace is one to be decided by the belligerents."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), another administration opponent, said that while he believed "any time is propitious for peace" the question of American efforts to obtain one properly should be decided by the President and his diplomatic advisers. Taft agreed with George that Roosevelt was unlikely to make any peace attempt at present.

SERVICE CLUB REPORT

Hospital week affords an opportunity for the Dixon Service Club to make a report of their activities since their organization in January of 1939. Twenty young matrons are now active in the club which was organized for the express purpose of aiding the K. S. B. H. in all ways possible.

The members are indeed grateful to the people of Dixon and this community, as well as the members of the hospital board who have so generously backed the Service Club in this purpose and they wish to express their appreciation of the co-operation of the public during their different money making projects which have enabled them to earn as follows:

$68 from sales.

$237 from the first annual dance held Dec. 1, 1939 at the Masonic Temple.

$355 from the Pinafore party held June 2, 1940 at the John Royce in Grand Detour. (Sale of home-made ice cream, cookies and candy, pony rides and games).

$241 from the second annual dance held Nov. 30, 1940 at the Loveland Community House.

From these earnings the club has been able to purchase for a third floor room the following furnishings, draperies, serving table, floor lamp, leather chair, and a table for flowers.

They have also purchased four floor lamps for third floor wards. $200 was given to the building fund for the new wing in April 1940, and $500 has recently been placed at the disposal of the hospital with which to buy a much needed infant respirator and incubator, thus making a total of nearly $1000 given to our very worthy hospital.

Overwork Blamed for Missionary's Suicide

Indianapolis, May 15—(AP)—Acquaintances today blamed overwork and a consequent break in health for the death of Minnie Vautrin, 54, Disciples of Christ missionary to China.

Miss Vautrin was found dead last night in her apartment here. The gas stove in the kitchen had been turned on and was not burning.

She had come back to the United States over a year ago after 28 years in China as a representative of the United Christian Missionary Society, with headquarters here.

Officials of the society said she was connected with Ginning College for Women when the Japanese captured Nanking three years ago and that she guarded many women and children who gathered on the campus to escape the soldiers.

She was born in Secor, Ill., and had a bachelor's degree from Eureka and a Master's degree from the University of Illinois.

Her article, "Will the Church of the West Be Faithful?" was published in last month's issue of "World Call," UCMS magazine.

HIGH AND LOW OF THREE-EYE LOOP TAKE EQUAL DRUBBING

By The Associated Press

The first place and the last place teams in the Three Eye League suffered equal embarrassment last night.

Evansville's pace setters took a 17 to 4 drubbing from Cedar Rapids, which included a humiliating fifth inning in which the Raiders scored nine times.

Waterloo, in last place, likewise had to submit to a nine-run inning as Springfield rolled up a 13 to 6 victory.

Madison beat out Moline 6 to 1, to tie Springfield for third place in the race. Clinton, although its game with Decatur was rained out, wound up in a first place tie with Evansville as a result of the Bees' wallowing.

A man's legs would be 90 feet long if they were proportionately as long as those of a daddy-long-legs.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about a pint a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Montgomery and Jenkins Meet in Ring Tomorrow

By SID FEDER

New York, May 15—(AP)—The 49th street betting bourse hung out its odds today on tomorrow night's Lew Jenkins-Bob Montgomery fight, and the more you studied them the less you knew about growing sugar in Siam.

Because, for some reason, not even your best friend could tell you, the "fraternity"—as the gambling guys like to be tabbed—established the Philadelphia Negro a 10 to 13 choice to finish on top in his ten-round overweight get-together with Texas Lew in Madison Square Garden.

On the records, this is about as logical as taking the train to Tallahassee to get from Times Square to the Bronx. Just consider these details:

1—Montgomery already has been beaten once by Jenkins.

2—He has never fought a main bout in the Garden, which gives even the best of 'em as much stage fright as your newest country cousin.

Deadly Puncher

3—Jenkins still rates as the deadliest puncher the lightweight division has seen in more than a decade.

4—Lew is still the "champ" and carries into the ring all the as-urance the title usually gives the man who owns one.

Now don't get the idea this corner figures the "Philadelphia Henry Armstrong" will be carried out of there on a shutter tomorrow night. It so happens your correspondent picks Bob to whip the Sweetwater swatter. But the fact still remains he deserves to be favorite in this waltz about as much as a draftee needs a pass to get into Camp Dix.

However, it just goes right along with the remarkable record the betting men have chalked up in the gentle art of bashing heads over the last 12 months. The underdog has jumped up and bitten the hand that fed him approximately two-thirds of the time in that stretch.

McSPADEN APPEARS TO BE OUT OF WINTER GOLF SLUMP

Washington, May 15—(AP)—Danny MacFayden, 34 year old pitcher, has been given his unconditional release from the Nats. Signed as a free agent last winter after being released by the Pirates, MacFayden had worked 11 relief innings for the Senators this season and was charged with one defeat. He said he expected to sign with another American League club.

At the last census, 51 aircraft dealers were counted in the U. S. compared with 31,511 new car and 6,980 used car dealers.

KNACKS' NEW PITCHER

Ralph Keegan of Fenton, Ill., will be the starting pitcher for the Dixon Knacks in their home game with the Peru Merchants at Reynolds Field Sunday afternoon. It was announced today by the local team management. Keegan pitched for Bradley Tech and Macomb Teachers while in college and for the Macomb Merchants last summer. Last winter he attended a baseball school in Florida and was signed and sent to a small town in the Florida East Coast League. In that loop he won three and lost two before being overcome by homesickness and the request of his parents to help them on the farm. Last Sunday he pitched for a Missouri team and defeated a team which had beaten the Missouri State Semi-Pro champs twice already this year. Score: 8 to 1.

WANTS ANOTHER TRACK MEET

Coach Jim Dominetta of Amboy Township high school reports that his track squad hasn't any more dual meets scheduled for the season, but that he is interested in arranging another meet. Any coaches interested in this news are asked to contact Jim at once.

TEAM STANDING

Thomasville, the team in the Georgia-Florida league with which Louis Bevilacqua is pitching, now stands with a .500 percentage with 15 wins and 13 losses to Sunday morning. Waycross leads the circuit with 18 wins and 8 defeats.

WINNING PITCHER

John Lindell, the boy you all know by now as the nephew of Coach C. B. Lindell of Dixon, was the winning pitcher when his Newark team defeated Toronto in an International League game recently, 9 to 6. Lindell accounted for one run, one hit, one out and four assists. His hit was a two-bagger. In eight innings he allowed 10 hits, walked three, struck out six.

PLAN BIG WEEK END

Dixon's entries in the annual interscholastic track and field meet at the University of Illinois are in for a big week end if they want to take in all the events planned. On Friday the program offers interscholastic track and tennis and the Ohio State-Illinois Big Ten baseball game. More track and tennis on Saturday and the Wisconsin team meet the Illini. Again the Ohio State baseball team plays the home squad and motion pictures of the Olympic games will be shown at night in the auditorium. Jack Vaughn and George Weigle are Dixon's candidates in the track events.

MAY GET MOUND ASSIGNMENT

Nelson Potter of Mt. Morris, pitcher for the Philadelphia A's may get the mound assignment when Connie Mack is honored at the first night game of the season at the White Sox park on June 4. Mack, now 78 years old, took over the management of the Athletics when the American League was launched in 1901.

PRINCETON RETAINS TITLE

Ohio, Hall and Cherry did not compete.

PRACTICE TONIGHT

It's "all out" tonight for the Dixon Knacks who will practice starting at 5:30 at Reynolds Field. Tuesday night the boys had what Manager Emmert describes as an "inspiring" work out and among the players to report were Worth Windmill, Clet Full, Shires Miller, Harold Glessner, Roy Kuhn, Ray Holland and Red Flanagan. The latter two are not on the team roster, but they like their baseball and helped the practice session move right along.

QUADRANGULAR GOLF MEET

Golf teams of Sterling and Freeport (victims of the Dixon squad) and Kewanee all bowed to Clinton, Ia., in a quadrangular meet at Sterling yesterday. White of the winners had low card with 83. Other scores included Cook of Freeport 84; Hubbard of Sterling 85; Griesser of Sterling 88, Benson of Sterling 88.

RIVER RIPPLES

Gertrude Wallin and Corbus Hoffman defeated Gene Goddard and Don Hilliker in a tennis doubles match at the Seventh street courts Tuesday afternoon. The winners counted set scores of 6-3, 3-6 and 6-2. On a neighboring court was a quartet of Irish-named players who included the Rev. Fr. James D. Burke, Ed O'Brien, Chuck Doyle and young Reilly.

TENTATIVE NIGHT GAMES

The Dixon Knacks are planning night games this season with the Maroons at Davenport, the Merchants at Peru and the Packers at Kewanee. Only tentative dates have thus far been made.

Season Schedule Is Announced for Polo Softball Loop

OPENING GAMES TO BE PLAYED TUESDAY, MAY 27

Eight Teams to Compose Ogle County Town's New Circuit

With team rosters completed and the schedule for the season arranged, the opening guns in the Polo softball league are set to be fired on Tuesday night, May 27 under the lights at the Polo high school field.

Eight teams will compose the league this season, the first in which a Polo league has been active for many years. Regular games will be played on Tuesday and Friday nights with postponed or rained out games on Monday evenings.

Entry fees, by players, according to President Jimmie Noakes, must be paid to sponsor or manager by May 19.

Mark Smith has been selected as one of the umpires and the other will be chosen later. The lights are to be focused this week and a public address system will probably be installed in about ten days and will be furnished by Jack Smith.

The league has expressed its appreciation to W. E. Pittenger and the school board of Polo for the fine co-operation in making the venture possible by donating the playing field.

OREGON WINS TRACK MEET WITH AMBOY

In a track meet between Rock River conference rivals at Amboy yesterday afternoon the Oregon squad scored a 78½ to 64½ victory winning seven of the 13 events.

Battling a strong wind the cindermen of both squads, nevertheless, set some good marks. High point men were Myers and Reed of Amboy, each with 11 tallies and Thurston and Basler of Oregon, each with 12. Myers won the half mile and placed second in the mile and in the quarter mile. Reed counted victories in both hurdle events and third in the 220-yard run.

Thurston of Oregon won the 110-yard dash and was second in the 220. His teammate, Basler, scored a victory in the broad jump and pole vault.

High Hurdles
Reed of Amboy won the 70-yard high hurdles in 9.6 seconds. The mile was won by Boyle of the hosts. Thurston of Oregon, with the win at his back, stepped off the 100-yard dash in 10.6 seconds. Thayer of the visitors won the quarter mile win 60 seconds.

The 110-yard low hurdles were won by Reed of Amboy in 14.2 seconds. Myers of Coach Jim Dominetta's Amboy team won the half mile in 2 minutes and 19 seconds. The 220-yard dash was won by Ferguson of Oregon in 25 seconds. With a heave of 106 feet Eakle of Oregon won the discus and Basler of the winners soared 8 feet 8 inches to capture first in the pole vault.

Pelma of Oregon tossed the shot 42 feet to win and Thayer won 5 feet 2 inches to win the high jump.

The winning distance for the broad jump was made by Basler of Oregon with 18 feet 3 inches. The Amboy team scored six firsts, eight seconds and nine third places.

The next competition for each squad will be in the Rock River conference meet at Polo on May 24.

Mel Harder, Age 31, Is Miracle Pitcher of the Season Thus Far

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Mel Harder, who at the mellow age of 31 is a veteran of a dozen years service with the Cleveland Indians in the American League, is the miracle pitcher of the season thus far.

The slender Nebraskan, always considered a "hot weather" performer already has won four games without a defeat and the only question now is whether he can maintain anything resembling this winning pace through the remainder of the campaign.

For many years Harder was one of the best hurlers in his league, but even in his best seasons he never could get going in the spring.

In 1935 when he won 22 games he didn't collect his first victory until the 30th of May. In 1938, his best recent season, he scored 17 triumphs and didn't get the first one until June. Last year, when he won 12 games, he didn't even make his first start until May 22.

Consequently his six-hit, 4-1 victory over the New York Yankees yesterday caused his Cleveland cohorts, as well as the rest of the American League, to wonder what level he might reach this summer.

Bitter Medicine For Yanks
He always has been bitter medicine for the Yankees and in his latest start he had everybody baffled except Joe Gordon, whose three singles accounted for half New York's hits.

He also had the help of three home runs—Gene Desautels, Clarence (Soup) Campbell and Gee Walker. Each got his first homer of the season to sink Red Ruffing, although he too pitched six-hit ball. Campbell's blow in the eighth followed a single by Lou Boudreau and broke a 1-1 tie.

It was the fourth straight defeat for the Yanks and the second day in a row they were dropped by homers, Boudreau's blast in the tenth beat them Tuesday.

The Boston Red Sox regained second place in the circuit by toppling the Chicago White Sox 10-7 with a seven-run rally in the seventh inning, climaxed by a grand slam homer by Manager Joe Cronin. Boston was trailing 6-3 prior to the big blowoff.

Sixth Straight Loss

The Washington Senators set down the Detroit Tigers 9-4 for the American League champions' sixth straight loss since Hank Greenberg departed for the army. Steve Sundra was backed by a 16-hit offensive.

MacFAYDEN GIVEN RELEASE FROM THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

Brookline, Mass., May 15.—(AP)—Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Winchester appeared well out of his winter golfing slump today as a result of his four-under-par 138 triumph over seven top ranking professionals in the big eight 36-hole tournament on The Country Club's historic course.

While putting together margin over Ben Hogan, golf's leading money winner, McSpaden gave his famous rivals a convincing putting lesson yesterday with the heavy 21-ounce club he swings on the green.

He was the only one able to solve the heavy putting surfaces and he wound up with 14 one-putt holes.

Byron Nelson, the P. G. A. champion, finished third with 743, two strokes ahead of Lawson Little, the National Open titlist, Jimmy Demaret and Craig Wood. Sam Snead was seventh with 146 and Jimmy Thomson, in trouble almost everywhere, drew up in the rear with 152.

DIXON UNDERCLASSMEN LOSE TO STERLING IN TRACK MEET HERE

Judging from the results of yesterday's Dixon-Sterling freshman-sophomore track meet here, the varsity teams of the two schools will continue to be close rivals in the years to come.

Yesterday's meet was won by the visiting Sterling squad, 61 to 52, although each team won six events and tied in the 13th.

Three new records were set in the meet with Ommen of Dixon capturing the 440-yard run in :56.3 to better the mark of Howard of Sterling who made :56.4 in 1939. Fane also of Dixon, set a new mark in the mile run when he stepped off the distance in 5:04.7 to erase the mark set by Cramer of Dixon at 5:14.6 in 1940.

Anderson of Sterling broke the third record when he bounded over the 70-yard high hurdles in 11 seconds flat to better the mark of Brown of Sterling who had clocked at 12 seconds in 1939.

Share First Places
Each team won firsts in six events and tied in one. Sterling's advantage came with eight second places and six thirds.

High point man of the meet was Carl Schnake of Dixon with 18 points. The local sophomore counted firsts in the 100-yard dash and the broad jump, second in the 220-yard dash, tied for first in the high jump and third in the shot put.

Other high scorers were Ommen of Dixon who won firsts in the 880-yard run and 440-yard run for 10 points. Troy of Sterling counted nine tallies and Reecher added 11.

Coach Marvin Winger was the faculty supervisor for the Dixon team.

Macomb Co. Lowest Bidder on Auto Plates

Springfield, Ill., May 15.—(AP)—Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes announces today the Hemp Company of Macomb submitted the low bid for the manufacture of Illinois automobile license plates for 1942 and 1943.

The Hemp Company bid was 9.25 cents per pair for 1942 plates and 9.50 cents per pair for those to be delivered for 1943. The increase in the 1943 rate was in anticipation of a steel price rise. The second lowest bid for 1942 was 10.47 cents a pair, Hughes said.

The secretary of state's office said about two million pairs of plates would be needed each year. Orange numerals on a black background will be the 1942 color combination.

Annual production of baked beans (pork and sauce) in U. S. canneries totals about 20 million cases, or nearly a billion cans, according to the Census Bureau. An additional 17 million cases of other beans also are processed yearly.

Some 300 places in Lincolnshire and d. Yorkshire, England, have names which show they originally were Danish settlements.

The year 1909 holds the record for the highest total of lumber cut in a single year with a mark of 44 1/2 billion board feet, census records show. The 1932 cut of only 10 billion feet was the lowest since 1869. A veteran fireman is called a "harquebus".
